Conference Virtually Concludes Efforts to Curb Naval Armaments

REACHES AGREEMENT TO LIMIT STRENGTH OF PLANE CARRIERS

Some Sort of Declaration With Regard to Submarine Likely Will Also Be Made

French Explain

Say Attitude Has Been Mistaken by British—Magazine "Monstrosity" Is Blamed

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, Dec. 30.—The arms conference has virtually reached the end of its effort to put a curb on naval armament.

To the capital ships settlement was added today an agreement for limitation of future tonnage in airplane carriers, and then the naval committee adjourned indefinitely, leaving determination of various problems of detail to a subcommittee of experts.

Some sort of declaration with regard to use of the submarine, and an agreement not to construct any auxiliary vessel hereafter with a tonnage of more than 10, 000, are expected also to be added to the accomplishments of the conference before the final curtain is rung down. A five-power treaty embodying all the points on which there is agreement now is in process of drafting.

Clarify Four-Power Treaty.

There are growing indications, too, that the four-power treaty to prevent a race in the Pacific, which already has been signed, will be further clarified. The American delegation is understood to have withdrawn any objection to the Japanese proposal that the treaty's scope be defined as not including the major Japanese islands, and the plan for an exchange of clarifying notes or for amendment of the treaty text is expected to take definite form within a few days.

The Japanese request for a clarification of the treaty's terms is said to have been based largely on the development of a difference in view on the subject between President Harding and the American delegation.
This development has been a topic of such widespread speculation in conference circles that the President took occasion today to characterize as "silly" published reports that Secretary Hughes was considering resignation from the cabinet as the result of differences arising between him and the White House during the arms negotiations.

What is to be done about the Far Eastern problems now becomes the big question of the conference. Japan and China are deadlocked in their efforts at a separate settlement of the Shantung controversy and as a consequence all the other Far Eastern discussions are at a standstill. It was indicated tonight that a meeting of the Far Eastern committee would be held next week at which China would attempt to transfer the Shantung negotiations into the full conference.

Intensive senate discussion of the accomplishments of the conference is continuing, even through the windle is not in session. Today's contribution to the argument came from Senator Lodge, Republican of New Jersey, who declared in a public statement that the Washington negotiations had laid the foundation for progress toward peace and friendship.

Airplane Carrier Strength.

Under the agreement on airplane carriers a type of ship which still is in the experimental stage, was reached today by the naval committee. After the American delegation had modified its limitation proposal to conform to the figures which the several powers presented as representing their individual desires. Under the presentment, the United States is to have 27,000 tons in airplane carriers, Great Britain, 135,000 tons; France, $1,000,000; Japan, 46,000 tons; Italy, 50,000 tons. The previous American plan would have given the United States 50,000 tons, Great Britain, 50,000 tons; Japan, 45,000 tons; France, 25,000 tons, and Italy, 25,000 tons.

In addition, it was agreed that no single carrier of more than 27,000 tons should be constructed, and that no ship should carry guns of greater than eight-inch caliber.

Anglo-French Relations.

The committee debate, which preceded the carrier agreement, again brought Anglo-French relations into prominence and led to another point-to-point exchange between the British and French delegates. Lord Lee, for the British, set forth at some length why his government is regarding with "apprehension" the naval building program of the French. In reply, Albert Sarrait, head of the French group, expressed in plain language the aversion of his delegation to what he termed an effort continually to put France in a position of suspicion.

Evidence of lack of confidence in the good faith of the French, said Mr.
Sarrait, had been given on many occasions, and he added that a campaign to discredit the French purposes also had been conducted in the press. If the suspicions and accusations were to mark every meeting of the naval committee, he asserted, then the French could not hope for beneficial results.

The effect of the interchange apparently was to clear the situation of some of its most embarrassing elements. Afterward, there was evident a disposition on all sides to push forward the work of the conference as rapidly as possible with all unnecessary debate limited, and as a result many of the delegates predicted that the whole naval question would be finally put out of the way before the end of another week. The Japanese and Italians both announced plans during the day to leave for home about the middle of January.

When the naval committee met today, Senator Sarrait said the Root proposal to ban submarine warfare against merchant ships entirely, as amended by Mr. Balfour for the British to be immediately effective as between the five signatory powers pending its ratification as a new statement of the committee to the Rome government, which prevented further debate by the Italians. Mr. Sarrait made a similar statement for the French group, and Chairman Hughes agreed that discussion in these circumstances would be of limited value but invited comment by any delegate.

Explains British "Misunderstanding."

Lord Lee, for the British group, said he felt there was a "misunderstanding" in the French group as to the British attitude on the submarine question.

"I cannot help feeling," he said, "that here we have a unique opportunity for the French delegation and government to reassure the British admiralty and public opinion in regard to this matter of which I hope they will avail themselves."

"I want to explain to our French friends, if I may, why it is we have these special apprehensions which have been expressed so forcibly in connection with France."

"We are not clear on what are the views of the French naval staff in this matter of utilization of submarines in time of war. It is true the views of experts are not always by any means determinative of the action of governments."

"But the views of naval staffs of the experts are of importance unless and until they are disavowed by the governments they serve."

Lord Lee then referred to recent articles on submarine warfare in the French Review Maritime, signed by Capitaine de Frigate Catex, "at that time chief of one of the important bureaus of the French naval staff," these articles, Lord Lee said, were designed to "throw ridicule on those who criticized the German methods in the late war." He read numerous extracts from these articles claiming that "torpedo" warfare was a French invention "appropriated" by the Germans.

Article Denies German Methods.

"To sum up," said one extract read by Lord Lee, "one can see nothing in the attitude of the Germans which, militarily speaking, is not absolutely correct. The failure to give notice before torpedoing has raised a storm of protest, but it is not so inadmissible as at first sight appears."

The effect of the interchange, Lord Lee continued, "who is appointed principal lecturer to the senior officers' course, will, no doubt, unless a change of policy takes place, be pouring what we regard as this infamy and this poison into the ears of the serving officers of the French navy. That is justification for what I can only describe as the apprehensions and even the bitterness that we must feel in the thought that under any conceivable circumstances our present allies, our late comrades in arms, should contemplate the possibility of warfare of that kind."

Lord Lee urged that a way of disavowal for the French of such intemperate lay in adoption of the Root resolution No. 2, banning submarine warfare against merchant ships.

"The French have told us here again and again," he said, "that they only require submarines for purposes of defense. We have had differences of opinion as to the utility of submarines for these purposes, but now, it seems to me, here is an opportunity of proving to the world that they mean what they say in regard to this."

"If the Root resolution as amended by Mr. Balfour was accepted," Lord Lee said, "I think, if I may say so, that France will have regained much of the ground which I believe has been lost between us, largely through misunderstandings."

Admiral de Bon Replies.

Admiral de Bon replied for the French naval staff that it stated openly "and declared it most emphatically, there is nothing more foreign to our minds than the idea of attacking a friend."

"It is not even conceivable to us," he continued, "our only regret is that this misunderstanding lasted so long that we did not know that it was based on an article like that written by Captain Catex."

The charge should be laid at the door of the man who wrote that article, and to him only," the admiral explained. "The article in no way represents, thank heaven, the views of the French navy."

"The author of that article has written what we consider to be a monstrosity. I beg Lord Lee to believe that the French navy has never harbored any idea of using methods of war practiced by the German submarines."

"I formally repudiate it in the name of the French navy," and who contemplate and intend to disrupt and overthrow our present form of government whenever opportunity presents itself. As for them nothing is more certain than that they are the only argument which I hope can understand the heavy arm of the law."

Discussing the question of Debs' health, Mr. Daugherty declared that he appeared to be physically strong but as a matter of fact was not and "he is not a normal man mentally on this particular subject." Considering Debs' age of 66 years, the attorney general asserted that the percentage of his life appropriated to the ten years sentence was excessive.

Daugherty in some degree was justified, Mr. Daugherty found, but he could not recommend a pardon "as it would doubtless be misunderstood to be a justification or condonation of his acts." To require Debs to undergo his full sentence, he added, would present to many "only an example of extreme and unjustifiably severity," while too great leniency "would be resented by those who have stood loyally to the support of the government in its hour of greatest need."

DEBS' ACTS UNFORGIVEN

President Granted Him Freedom Solely as "Act of Grace," Daugherty Announces

FORMS U. S. POLICY

Action in Other "Political Prisoner" Cases Will Be Based on Debs Decision

Washington, Dec. 30.—Eugene V.
Debs was granted his freedom by President Harding solely as "an act of grace; his violations of the war laws remain unforgiven by the government." This was disclosed tonight by Attorney General Daugherty, who made public his recommendations to the President in the Debs case.

"It will be observed," Mr. Daugherty said, "that a pardon was not granted Debs, but that his sentence was commuted. The action of the President in no wise condones the offense and the release was solely an act of grace. The gratitude of Debs will be measured by his conduct in the future."

The administration theory of action in the Debs case, according to Mr.
Daugherty, is to be considered as the government's policy in relation to others imprisoned for violation of the war laws.

Not a Favored Class.

"Regarding this class of so-called 'political prisoners' as they are termed by those who are demanding their release," Mr. Daugherty said, "there is no real reason why they should be treated any differently than any other persons who violate the law aside from the fact that many of them, as well as their friends and associates on the outside, actually believe that they have violated no just law and were strictly within their constitutional rights in their public utterances, which have been found in violation of the espionage act."

"Of course there are others among them who were and are actively conscious and disloyal to our government

HARDING PLANS FARMER RELIEF

Calls Conference on Agricultural Questions to Be Held in Washington in Near Future

QUICK ACTION TAKEN

Secretary Wallace Telegraphs Invitations to Organizations; Date Not Yet Fixed

Washington, Dec. 30.—President Harding has asked Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to call a conference on agricultural questions to be held in Washington in the near future. It is expected that representatives of agriculture in all parts of the country and of industries directly and indirectly associated with agriculture will attend and discuss the situation brought about by low prices prevailing for general farm products.

President Harding asked Secretary Wallace to call the conference to "suggest practical ways of improvement for the severe agricultural depression which exists throughout the land." The action was taken at the department of agriculture in response to the request, telegraphic invitations being dispatched immediately to a number of organizations and individuals whose attendance is desired at the gathering.

Secretary Wallace said that the date of the conference had not yet been fixed nor a complete invitation list made up. It is expected, however, that the conference will be held within a month.

"No one will pretend that the present conditions could have been avoided," President Harding said in his letter to the secretary, "but none of us is willing to agree that there ought not to be some corrective and constructive steps taken to remedy the severe hardships under which so important a portion of our productive citizenship is struggling. I am convinced that a conference may be made very helpful agency in suggesting practical ways of improvement, particularly if brought into coordination with the helpful investigation which has been begun by a congressional commissioner committed to a related work."

Suggests Two Sections.

The President further suggested that the conference might divide its work into two sections, one "for consideration of our present-day difficulties which though temporary are serious and need corrective action," while the second could deal with "a survey of the future in an effort to determine upon general policies."

The letter added:
"It is unquestioned that a conference will bring us to a clearer understanding of the problem before us.
I would like you to bring into the conference not only the ablest representatives of agricultural production, who shall represent our great country and need corrective action, but I think much good would come if you will include in the conference those who are engaged in industries most intimately associated with agriculture. It will clarify our views if we may have present representatives of the more important interests which are closely related and dependent on agriculture. I trust these representatives will be invited. I must leave the make-up of the conference to your more intimate knowledge of those who may confer most helpfully, but I will be glad if you will immediately issue invitations so that both the country and the government may have the benefit of the ablest possible sections which will come from such a meeting."

"I am in complete accord with the President's conception of the matters the conference should consider," Secretary Wallace announced, "and the character of the representatives and who try to carry out his wishes in detail."

ONE KILLED, 15 INJURED IN CRASH OF "L" TRAINS

New York, Dec. 30.—One person was killed and 15 others were injured tonight in a rear-end collision at the 42nd street station of the Ninth avenue elevated railroad.

The accident occurred about 7 o'clock. Passengers were boarding a south-bound train when another traveling in the same direction crashed into it. The dead and injured were caught in the rear car of the stationary train and were pinned in the wreckage, which police and firemen had to chop away before they could be released.

The motionman of the moving train, who was among the seriously injured, was arrested pending an investigation.

NEW YORK COURT REPORTER SETS NEW WORLD RECORD

Syracuse, Dec. 30.—Writing an average of 82 words a minute for 15 minutes, with but 31 errors in 15 pages of legal-size paper, L. J. Tannenholz of New York set a new world record for court reporters' style writing at the annual convention of the New York State Shorthand Reporter's association which closed here today.

Chief Judge Frank H. Dickson of the court of appeals, in an address to the members of the association, stressed the importance of court reporters to the legal profession.

New York, Dec. 30.—Benny Kauff, suspended outfielder of the New York Giants, can have his job back whenever the suspension imposed by Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, is lifted, counsel for the club told Supreme Court Justice Whitaker today at a hearing of Kauff's application for a permanent injunction restraining Judge Landis and club officials from maintaining the ban against him.

The club's counsel argued that no injunction order should be issued against him, inasmuch as it was merely obeying the commissioner's order.

Counsel for Kauff, who was suspended following the indictment for alleged complicity in the sale of a stolen automobile, charged Judge Landis with "retardation" in continuing the ban after Kauff had been acquitted by a jury. The judge's attitude, he declared, constituted an "outrage" "because" that prevented Kauff from earning a living.

ROBBER ASSAULTS GEORGE WALLACE BUT GETS NO CASH

George Wallace, proprietor of the second-hand store on Broad street, just below the Y. M. C. A., who asleep in his chair in the rear room of his shop last night, was rudely awakened about 1 o'clock this morning by several blows over the head. He immediately jumped up and grappled with his assailant, who ran toward the front door of the store. Wallace secured a revolver and followed the man, who hid behind the door and when Wallace had passed him, rushed back through the store and out the back door.

Wallace fired two shots in the direction of South Main street and these were heard by Officers O'Dell and Simmons, who were walking down Broad street. They rushed to the rear of the place and endeavored to locate the man, but he had evidently made good his escape, and no trace was found of him.

After failing to discover the man, the officers turned their attention to Wallace, who was quite dazed, though not rendered unconscious. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the Fox Memorial hospital. It is said at the hospital at 3 a. m. that Wallace was resting comfortably and it was not believed there was any danger of a fractured skull, his injuries consisting of two deep cuts and several minor ones about the head.

He was unable to give any description of his assailant. He said that he had dozed off in his chair and the first thing he knew was when he was knocked over the head several times with a blunt instrument. He then endeavored to tackle the man, but as he has but one arm he could not accomplish much.

Wallace had about $300 on his person at the time but the robber did not secure any of this and nothing was missing from the store. At 3 a. m. the police had found no trace of the offender.

THREE U. S. MARINES ARE FOUND GUILTY

Sentenced to Ten Years for Kill-

Street Riot

Managua, Nicaragua, Dec. 30.—The American marines who have been convicted of a naval mutiny composed of officers of the United States cruiser, Galveston, in connection with a clash here with the Nicaraguan police, have been found guilty of the killing of three Nicaraguan policemen.
The marines have been sentenced to ten years imprisonment at hard

The killing of three Nicaraguan policemen and the wounding of five citizens in Managua in the course of a street fight between American marines and a party of civilians was told in evidence from San Juan del Sur, Nicaragua, last week.

Washington accounts of the incident said it had taken place on December 8, giving the names of three American marines who were slightly wounded in the fight as Sergeant Lee Henry of Louisville, Ky.; Corporal Ray Frey of Cincinnati, Mo.; and Private Arthur Owen of Spokane, Wash. The marines were described as being attached to the American legation.

TROOPS RAPIDLY LEAVING RHINE; SOME MAY REMAIN

(By the Associated Press.)
question of leaving a small representation of American soldiers indefinitely with the Allied armies in Germany has not yet been decided, it was said today at the White House. If any are left, it was added, the number would be small.

American troops from the army on the Rhine are at present returning to the United States at the rate of about 800 a day for each transport which sails.

The United States has not as yet received any money from Germany in payment of the costs of the demilitarization of the Rhine, it was said today at the White House.
The United States, however, have been satisfied by the German government and the amount stands as an obligation which the United States may expect later to collect.

New York, Dec. 30.—The worst is yet to come. This is the view of New Year's eve taken by officials still dealing with wood alcohol poisoning in Christmas drinking bouts.

The police tonight were still seeking the source of the poisonous "li" or, which caused eleven known deaths and presumably a number of others which have not received official notice.

Despite the death toll, New Yorkers continued to swallow bootleg of unknown origin, as if warming up for the heavy drink-usually welcomed here.

Bellvue hospital alone has re-—There will be a watch-night service tonight at Salvation Army hall, beginning at 11:15. The public is cordially invited.

—The Huntington Memorial library will be open this evening until 9 o'clock as usual, but will be closed Sunday and Monday.

—H. M. Cross has been sworn in as police officer to assume the duties of Patrolman Mervale Howard while the latter is absent from the city for a few days.

—Tickets for the annual dinner of the Ontario Fish, Game and Gun club are on sale at Brighams jewelry store, Slade's drug store, City Drug store and Windsor hotel.

—Reservations have been made for the New Year's eve celebration at Hotel Ontario this evening by Dehl and Cooperstein parties, indicating that there will be several parties from outside the city in attendance.

—Following their custom of many years standing the stores of members of the Merchants association will be closed all day on Monday—New Year's falling on Sunday. It is understood that business about the city will generally be suspended on Monday.

—Train 308 on the D. & H. was delayed at Cobleskill last evening, a line of fire hose being laid across the track being used to extinguish a blaze in a boarding car on the opposite side of the tracks from the station. The train reached Oneonta nearly an hour late.

—The Ontario Ice and Fuel company is installing at its Prospect coal office a ten ton Fairbanks auto scale of the improved type, the old scale proving inadequate for their heavy trucks. The new scale is of a design especially adapted to their work and is the best on the market of its kind.

—Residents of Oneonta who are interested in the Far Eastern political situation, will no doubt seize the opportunity to listen to the address to be given at the morning session by Sokolich Katsukumi, an interpreter connected with the Japanese embassy at Washington, who will take "Bridging the Pacific" as his theme. All will be welcomed at the service.

—The week of prayer will be observed at the First Baptist church beginning with the communion service Sunday morning. In the evening the cantata given the previous Sunday, was so much enjoyed, that it will be repeated. From Tuesday to Friday services will be held beginning at 7:30 p. m. with the exception of Thursday night, when the annual business meeting for reports and election of officers will be held, preceded by a church supper at 6:30.

—Meetings Today.
All members of the Women's Relief corps meet tonight at 6:30 sharp to practice for installation and drill.

—Meeting Sunday.
Gardner's Philharmonic orchestra will hold its regular rehearsal Sunday. Striggs at 3:30, general rehearsal at 4 o'clock at Municipal hall.

—Regular meeting Chapman division, No. 48, O. R. C., Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Trueman's hall. Business of importance.

—Put on a Thinkin Cap.
Little fish keep near shore, in order to avoid being nibbled up by big fish. In Oneonta, human little fellows, who use the part of their bodies between the ears, are playing safe, by getting together near shore; working together to help each other; dividing all gains together; getting homes and farms together, on easy terms; by making rent money pay for them and are thus safely growing large without danger of being gobbled up. They are doing it thru the safe and sane Ontario Building and Loan association and a lot more of them are going to get in with this new big bunch which starts next month. advt. 11

PARK IMPROVEMENT ELECTION CALLED

Taxpaying Electors to Vote Upon Expenditure of $25,000 and $5,500 for New Ambulance

ON THURSDAY, JAN. 26TH

Sum Named to Be Expended in Developing Recreational Facilities in Neahwa and Wilber Parks

Taxpaying electors of the city will be asked to vote upon the question of bonding the city in the sum of $25,000 for the purpose of developing recreational facilities in Neahwa and Wilber parks in accordance with the proposed plan, the polls at the Municipal building to be open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. This was decided upon at a meeting of the common council held last evening to close up unfinished business for the current year. Mayor Ceperley and Aldermen Clark, Coy, Lauren and Bolton were present and all the aldermen voted for the resolution.

The resolution submitting the proposal to the voters also provides for submitting at the same election a proposal to expend the sum of $5,500 or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purchase of a new ambulance for the city. This was made a part of the resolution, but, of course, the two propositions will be submitted separately. The committee to which the question was submitted evidently has decided that the ambulance now in use has become so badly worn that it is no longer dependable.

The park proposition follows closely the plan submitted recently and provides for the expenditure of $15,000 in Neahwa park and $10,000 in Wilber parks. The official notice giving the form of the resolution and the proposal as submitted will appear in The Star of Monday next. Briefly it authorizes the expenditure of the sums named in the development of the amusement and recreational facilities in the two parks and for providing water and illumination within the parks.

Mayor-elect Miller was present at the meeting and upon the invitation of Mayor Ceperley he was invited within the hall and to take the seat assigned to one of the absent aldermen, which invitation was accepted and Mr. Miller was an interested observer of the proceedings.

City's State and County Tax.
City Clerk Close reported that the city's share of the state and county tax levied by the board of supervisors as $110,510.81 and upon motion this was ordered levied upon the taxable property within the city and collected with the city tax. The amount required of the city for state and county purposes is about $7,000 less than last year, though sizable in comparison with the city tax itself.

City Judge Bond Approved.
The bond of City Judge Frank C. Huntington, re-elected, for another term, was presented and, it bearing the approval of the city attorney, it was ordered accepted and filed.

Wilber Bank Designated.
Following the reading of a letter from the Wilber National bank, offering to pay two per cent interest upon daily balances during the year 1922 for the city funds, a resolution designating that bank as depository for the city funds for the coming year was passed. This follows the custom of alternating the city funds between the two banks, each paying the same rate of interest.

—Name Plates Suggested.
Mayor Ceperley called attention to the fact that no name plates are to be found upon the frames containing the pictures of the former mayors of the city, and suggested that in future years many would be unable to identify the several mayors unless plates are provided and attached to or placed beneath the pictures. Mayor Ceperley named Aldermen Lauren and Clark those as a committee to provide suitable plates, assuming that the cost will not be excessive. The idea appeared to meet with the approval of all.

Mayor Grateful for Support.
Before the session adjourned, Mayor Ceperley addressed the aldermen briefly, saying that he feels very grateful for the uniform courtesy and kindness which he has been accorded during his years of association with the members of the council. He said that he could recall no unkindness and that he would cherish nothing but pleasant recollections of the association with the members. He took occasion to bear testimony to a firm conviction that every member that has been associated with him on the council has been honest, faithful and efficient in the discharge of his duties, and he declared his regret in connection with his retirement, in the fact that these pleasant relations will be severed. Finally, he wished to thank all connected in any way with city affairs for the uniform kindness manifested toward him. He then declared the meeting adjourned, inviting all present to be his guests at Laskaris' for refreshments.

NEW YEAR'S EVE CELEBRATION

Manager Stanford Has Mabel Corlew, Grand Opera Singer of Note to Entertain Diners at Hotel Ontario Tonight — Other Features.

Manager Stanford at Hotel Ontario has made extensive arrangements for those who choose to spend New Year's eve at the hotel. The stellar feature of the evening will be Mabel Corlew of Grand Opera fame, who sang at the opening of the hotel, and has frequently been recalled there and is a vocalist of exceptional ability. Her coming is a personal tribute to the friendship between her husband and Mr. Stanford, and it affords Oneontians an excellent opportunity to hear her.

Mr. Stanford will have a ten-piece orchestra at the hotel from 9 o'clock on, and at 11 o'clock the Strand orchestra will unite with the former, giving about 20 pieces for the remainder of the evening.

For the accommodation of those who choose to dine early, the special New Year's eve dinner will be served at 9 o'clock, to those who buy the special dinner tickets, and all such may retain their table reservations throughout the evening without additional charge, participating in the dancing, enjoying the entertainment and sharing in the favors distributed.

The fun making and entertainment will commence at 9 o'clock and will continue until midnight. At 11 o'clock the dinner for those who buy the special dinner tickets and who have reserved their tables will be served with special new and novel noise-making devices provided and dancing between the courses.

Mabel Corlew arrived in the city last night, assuring her presence to delight those participating in the New Year's eve festivities at the hotel. Those who have not secured table reservations and desire to attend should make early application today, as provision has been made only for a certain number.

Mr. Stanford promises all who attend an enjoyable evening.

Will Open on Monday
Store Leased by Mrs. Norton in Hotel Ontario Being Equipped for Millinery Business and Bazar.

Mrs. S. Alice Norton has taken possession of the store which she has leased in the Hotel Ontario and is now equipping the fixtures and show cases preparatory to opening on Monday an up-to-date millinery store and bazar.

The store which Mrs. Norton has leased is the one next to the dining room and extending back through what was the ladies' retiring room. The interior has been redecorated and painted and presents a most pleasing appearance. The small balcony formerly used for the orchestra will be utilized as a workroom.

Negotiations are now under way for the rental of the store which Mr. Stanford will equip on the lobby side of the Norton store. As soon as the lease is signed word will be commenced on the store.

Mr. Stanford announces that the present dining room, now entered back of the elevator, will be left as it is for the present but that unless the public shows a demand for the large room through their patronage he will be forced to convert the front portion of the room into stores.

Notice.
All union barber shops will close all day Monday, January 1st, New Year's holiday. advt. 11

CHAIRMAN ELMORE RESIGNS

MAYOR-ELECT MILLER FINDS IT DIFFICULT TO MAN COMMISSIONS.

E. W. Elmore in Letter Expresses Regret That Business and Other Activities Necessitate Relinquishing Duties With Police Commission.

Mayor-Elect C. C. Miller is finding it no easy task to man the various commissions of the city with individuals meeting his ideas of the needs and will in all probability make no announcement relative to his appointments until they are read to the common council at the next meeting.

His task has been increased by the designation of E. W. Elmore to serve longer upon the police commission. Elmore being content that Mr. Elmore had asked to be relieved, Mayor-Elect Miller was yesterday asked if this is correct and he confirmed the rumor, expressing himself as highly appreciative of Mr. Elmore and his services to the community in many ways and wishing that the city had more citizens possessing his civic interest and willingness to help in all good work.

The mayor-elect said that he had received a letter some days since from Mr. Elmore, in which he said that he has decided that he must confine his efforts more closely to the business and that he must resign, upon being relieved of the position on the police commission after January 1 and expressing his best wishes for the success of the new administration and his willingness to aid where consistent with the common interest.

Mr. Miller says that his state is pretty well completed unless compelled to make changes by reasons of designations of those who have the subject under advisement.

While he would say nothing relative to his appointments or affirm or deny other rumors current it seems to be generally understood by those most familiar with city affairs that City Clerk Sheldon H. Close is to remain in that position, in which beyond question he has proven his capability. The most prevalent guess as to city attorney is that George E. Gibbs will be named for that position and there seems to be a general impression that John McGinness will succeed George L. Winans as commissioner of charities.

We have a fine line of chickens for today, also everything you will need to go with them for your New Year's dinner. VanBuren's. Phone 352. advt. 11

County Accredited Herd Association Organized

Directors Elected and Plans Discussed for Carrying On Work of Bovine Tuberculosis Eradication in Otsego County, With Federal and State Aid

The Otsego Accredited Herd Association, Inc., was formally organized at a meeting of about 100 cattle owners from all parts of the county, held yesterday at Milford, N. Y. The first direct action was the election of a board of directors, and other steps necessary to carry out the plan of eradication. The meeting will be held in the near future.

The formation of the association is a direct outgrowth of the action of the Otsego County Board of Supervisors at its last session, when it passed a resolution to incorporate the association to carry out the plan of eradication of bovine tuberculosis. The association will be a corporation under the laws of the state, and its purpose will be to carry out the plan of eradication of bovine tuberculosis in Otsego county, and to cooperate with the federal and state governments in the work of eradication.

Another speaker was W. J. Bird, representing the Bureau of Cooperative Associations of the State Department of Farms and Markets, who declared that this was the first time in New York state that cattle owners had organized an association to cooperate with the state and federal departments.

The board of directors, the nucleus of the new organization, was elected as follows: Charles J. Armstrong of Milford, Dr. M. Hamilton of Oneonta, Frank D. Potter of West Oneonta, John J. Walcott of East Springfield and Frank McFee of Oneonta. Officers of the association will be chosen by the board at its next meeting. The directors will also prepare the by-laws and develop plans and policies of the association. These will subsequently be submitted to the membership.

As has been said, the purpose of the organization is to carry on the accredited herd plan in Otsego county. Federal and state aid in this work is extended only to those counties who cooperate, either through an appropriation by the county legislature or an independent organization. Since the plan was inaugurated in Otsego county, 206 cattle owners have had their herds tuberculin tested. Although this is the largest number of herds tested of any county in the state, yet there are not as many accredited herds, as bovine tuberculosis is quite prevalent. Through the active continuance of the accredited herd plan it is hoped eventually to HELPING ON GLAD NEW YEAR.

War Tax on Railroad Transportation Expires Tonight at Midnight.

The stroke of twelve tonight, which ushers in Sunday and the New Year, will be welcomed by travelers on the railroads of the United States, since from that hour there will be no more war tax on tickets purchased. This repeal of the war tax amounts to eight percent on the cost of all tickets and will do something at least to reduce the light cost of living. Later, should reductions in operating expenses permit roads to go back to three cents per mile, traffic, save for mileage books, would be on a pre-war basis, at least on the Delaware & Hudson.

Beginning tomorrow morning tickets from Oneonta to Albany will be $2.95 instead of $3.20; to Binghamton, $2.20 instead of $2.35 and to Cobleskill, $1.34 instead of $1.46. Proportionate reductions are of course made to other stations.

THE LID CLAMPED DOWN.

Warning from Syracuse Not to Sell Over Quart in 10-Day Period.

The following from Syracuse, where the District Internal Revenue office is located, will be read with interest in Otsego county in all parts of Central New York, and elsewhere throughout the country, since the order is unquestionably effective everywhere in the United States.

Syracuse, Dec. 30.—Down fell the prohibition lid on wine today.

No more can you walk into the drug store armed with a friendly doctor's prescription, obtain a gallon or two of wine or a case of champagne.

Warning that not more than one quart of wine may be sold within a 10-day period to the same person, today by the local Internal Revenue office. Further warning went out to physicians that they must not issue prescriptions for a greater amount and must observe the 10-day restriction.

The regulations also provide that the wine sold on prescription must not have a higher alcoholic content than 24 per cent.

The new wine restrictions clear up a situation that has been decidedly muddled. Originally, there was no limit as to quantity of wine that could be sold on prescription, and the regulations were equally silent as regards the period one prescription was to cover.

Then came the so-called medicinal beer regulations of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. They provided that only two quarts of wine could be purchased at one time, but did not set a time limit on consumption. But the Mellon rules were later given a knock out by the Campbell Beer Bill, which the latest wine regulations follow.

For sale—33 acre farm one mile off the state road, seven cows, one horse, farming tools, gasoline engine, silo, good buildings, furnace in house and running water. Price $4,500, cash $2,000. Would trade for city property. Alfred Sutch, Oneonta Real Estate agency, 53 Clinton street.

SOUTH SIDE NEWS NOTES

Jerry Hotchkiss is seriously ill at the home of his son-in-law, Charles J. Hyndes, and, owing to his advanced years, he being 53 years of age, considerable anxiety is felt.

Mr. and Mrs. John Callahan spent Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Northrup, in Delhi. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Callahan's sister, Mrs. Jennie Moon of New York city, who will be their guest for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanford have returned from Stamford, where they spent Christmas at the home of his father, R. N. Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jenks entertained a party of relatives at their South Side home on Christmas day. Ray McDonald, who fractured his right arm just below the elbow in a fall last Monday, is making a rapid recovery.

The condition of G. L. Wheelock, who has been ill for some time, remains little changed, and causes his relatives and friends some anxiety.

announcing the January Sale
of Black and White
Opening Tuesday

FASHIONABLE Paris has so completely succumbed to the vogue of Black that a lingerie sale which did not include it would, indeed, be behind the times.

So in January, 1922, the perennial Sale of White gives way to a sale of Black and White which features:

Black, because it's fashionable White, because it's dainty
And we have added pink, blue and lavender to suit a wide variety of tastes.

In these colors we display Lingerie, Blouses, Morning Dresses, Negligees and Corsets at Lowest-in-the-City Prices.
